FIVE TRAINMEN DROWNED. Assistant on the Canadian Pas Council by a Washers.

Tomovio, June 19. - There was a terrible accident on the Canadian Pacific radiway, between Clarement and Myrtin, last night, by which five residents of this city lost their lives. A washout was reported on the road and a light engine was sent out to repair the damage. There were on board: John Wansport; but even they are regarded as less, the bridge inspector, of Parkdale; James Alton, engineer; F. Offver, fireman, and Sectionmen Lott and Moriarty. The engine, while running at a moderate rate of speed, came unexpectedly on a washout and without warning for the zoological collection in Central | plunged into the break caused by the flood. All on board were drowned. The evening and night trains to and from the East last night did not get through, and to-day passengers are being transferred at the gap. The body of Waness was found this morning. He was a married man with three children.

Do not take cheap sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. You must have some thing that has proven its power in both Europe and America. General Wheatcroft Nelson, of London, says? "My experience in the English army, as well as in America, convinces me that nothing so thoroughly purifies the blood, or adds to the health, vigor and life, as Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir." This grand Elixir is sold by druggists in all parts of America. It is a good, pure, honest medicine. Try it so-day.

You mean your uncle?" "Is he unhappy?"

·I think so. I was surprised at hi telling mother only the other day. when she urged him to marry, that his heart was true to an old love."

"Yet, he seems content, and then he isn't much over 30." Still he may be very wretched. Suppose I were parted from you?"

The thought was too much, and Letitia Langdon and Lennox Kendal sought refuge in a tender embrace. .. We ought to help somebody else to be as happy," mused Letitia.

"But how?" A long silence followed. "What was your uncle's sweetheart's name?" she asked, idly, at length.

"Elsie Graham was one of them, believe. She wes quite reduced financially, I think." "As if that could make any differ ence." with fine disdain. A few moments later (a clock was she unburden her mind. "I found her she whispered, when at last they were alone in the spacious conservatory.

"Found whom?" "Why, Elsie Graham?" "You! Where?"

"Never mind where. She is very pretty; but oh, so pale!" "I believe she was always noted for her pure white complexion!" an Lennox lapsed into silence.

"When I've seen her several times. I'm going to ask her to our house and you must bring your Uncle Dick.' "What will your mother say?"

"Oh, she's to know nothing of it till the time, and then what can she say?" Two days later Letitia decided that she would prefer to have pink roses instead of white ones embroidered on the screen, and nothing was easier than to persuade her mother to allow her to drive on and change the order while she made a call.

Miss Graham marveled at Miss Langdon's sweet friendliness, while Letitia grew more and more enthusiastic as to the results of her scheme. She admired Miss Graham's pretty person as much as she did her taste fully arranged rooms.

And surely she must be very poor. else she would not work for others. In reality the profits on Miss Graham's act embroidery were very large. How Letitia's heart thumped as she thought of the blushes that would color those milk white checks when her little plote was completed!

Miss Graham," she said one day, want you to come to our house Thursday, as early in the evening as you can. I am certain you confine yourself too much."

You are very kind-"No, no. no; you must come." And before she had left Elsie Graham had promised to do so,

In the meantime Lennox had been instructed to bring his uncle, and two young people at least waited eagerly for that eventful evening. It so happened that Letitia's mamma attended a dinner party, and though Miss Graham arrived early, they did not meet. So the success was to be all Letitfa's very own, and she overwhelmed her guests with pretty attentions. They were in the library when Letitia distinctly heard the door-bell. In a moment she distinguished a familiar voice, and after excusing herself found Lennox and his Uncle Dick -a jully, self-satisfied bachelor.

EFFECT IN WALL STREET.

How the Senate's Action on the Silve Bill is Regarded.

NEW YORK, June 19.-Russell Sage says he looks for a financial panie i free coinage becomes a law. Henry Clews said he didn't believe Harrison would sign such a measure. John H. Inman regarded it as dangerous legislation. The opinions of bankers and brokers as to its ultimate effect were very diverse, but the general impression is that the measure means a wide inflation of the currency and an advance in every commodity dealt in. The action of the Senate had little or no influence in Wall street except among the bullion-dealers. Some of the Wall street brokers bid the price of silver bullion certificates up to 136, but it soon declined from that figure, and the last sale was made 4: 101%.

FROM FLOOD AND CYCLONE. Eight People Drowned Near Appomattor

S. D.-Great Damage Done. Huron, S. D., June 19 .- Dispatche from Potter county say a cloud-burst near Appomattox last night caused great rise in Cheyenne creek and flooded a large tract of country. Three member: of William McElery's family and five of George Wager's were drowned. A large number of horses and cattle also were killed. Near Lebanon, in the same county, a cyclone swept several miles of country, destroying a number of houses. Valentine Bohn was killed and John English hurt so he will die.

To travel-or rather climbell through the bushes on the steep eide, is not only difficult but also dangerone, a mis-step in some places being enough to precipitate a person headlong into the over. A fine example of erosion is found here. A ravine or glen (Jehoff's) has been eroded from the top of the bluff beginning some fifteen or twenty rods back from the river, to the very edge. The entire bed is worn out of Sr. Peter's sandstone forming a smooth bottom but somewhat more worn in places, like ministure water-falls. Where the ravine takes its beginning a huge shelf of limestone tots out over the eroded bottom at a height of some 10 or 12 feet, Large portions of this has been broken off and carried by the torrent far down the glen. A slight conception of the erosivive power of water can be formed when we remember that this entire ravine has been made by small freshets. Alice B. Spaulding. Died-at Paulipeburg, Kansas, Jane 1, 1890, leaving a husband and Melvin N., to mourn their great loss. She was born in Hannibel, Oswego couny. N. Y., April 19th, 1851, and came with her parents, Nelson and Harriet Onle, to Johnstown, Rock county, Wis., in 1866. She was married to H. J. Spaulding, July 231, 1867, at the home of her parents in Johnstown. The young couple soon after moved to Philpahurg, Kansas, a then new and border county, and had to endure the hardships moident to a frontier life. They started with high hopes and light hearts, but alas how soon are our hopes blasted; ofien as we think we are ready to live, we are called to our windowless home -our long and beautiful rest. That is all right, for God never makes mistakes; but human nature cannot always see the point; as the prophet says, 'Change and decay is written everywhere in this world;" disappointment and death is the common lot of human life. So the prophet symbolized curlife by the withering grass and faded flowers. But what a bleesed thought that in death all sorrows are brought to a close.

She was a good wife, mother and daughter. Her death seems untimely as she was only 39 years old. Mr. Spaulding was raised in Johnstown and is well and
